Earth Friendly Products Re-Freshening the Lives of Young Environmentalists
Earth Friendly Products Partners with University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources and Environment

Garden Grove, CA – September 17, 2009 – Earth Friendly Products, recent recipient of the Green Patriot™ Green 100™ Award and manufacturer of best-selling eco-friendly cleaning products, is proud to announce their partnership with the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources and Environment. The partnership includes a donation of Earth Friendly Products' Eco Breeze to 175 incoming graduate students.

With the donation of Eco Breeze, a fabric freshener that contains only ingredients that are all-natural with pronounceable components like purified water, grapefruit seed extract and corn-derived odor eliminators, students will find that living sustainably and odor-free is right at their fingertips. Eco Breeze will keep students' clothes, bedding, furniture, and shoes smelling fresh between those intermittent trips home or to the laundry mat.

“Colleges around the country are becoming aware of their carbon footprint on this planet, and the initiative is being lead by our future leaders and environmentalists,” commented Van Vlahakis, CEO of Earth Friendly Products. “We are happy to provide an eco-lifestyle choice to the newest additions to the future of our environment.”

“The overarching objective of the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources and Environment is to contribute to the protection of the Earth's resources,” said Adam Ancira, the school's Recruiting and Admissions Coordinator. “Our students are committed to achieving a sustainable society, too, and using products like Earth Friendly Products is part of achieving that long-term goal.”
